Comment on M. & A.

Replying to our opposition Monday to a proposal that the state government take over the defunct Missouri & Arkansas railroad, and our further suggestion that the only hope of reviving the road lay in its operation as a sort of farm co-operative, the Arkansas Gazette said editorially this morning:

"This is reasonable enough, except for one thing: time has run out. The M. & A. is under death sentence by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has agreed to let its present owners junk it."

"According to those who have fought the M. & A.'s battles in the past, there is no hope of raising funds in time to save the road. This means a state action or none at all. . . . It seems to us that a special session of the legislature is very much in order. I don't think so. I claim to be thoroughly acquainted with the financial history of the M. & A., and from personal contact with citizens who lived along its line for many years I know still more. And I after all these many months of suspension the M. & A. still can not rally private capital to its rescue—as a sort of farm co-operative rather than a full-fledged railroad operation—then that becomes the final decision or its own people; and there isn't going to be any intervention by the state government, regardless how much the Gazette and this writer attempt to worry the issue."

I might elaborate my own position regarding federal or state aid to fundamental utilities, of which the railroads certainly are one. I feel it is permissible for government to help private enterprise, whether rail, highway, or air-borne, for the sake of peace-time economy as well as the emergency of war—but only where there is a substantial demand for the service, and the people of the territory that the enterprise serves."

It is one thing to ask government to "cover" the last 5 or 10 per cent of a losing railroad or airline proposition—but it is an entirely different thing to attempt to underwrite with public funds the many discarded railroad ventures in the history of America. The name of that venture is Missouri & Arkansas, formerly the Missouri & North Arkansas, the detailed story of which was told by Orville Thrasher Gooden, Henricus college professor of economics in his book published in 1926, "The History of the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad Strike (1921-23)."

This is a heart-breaking story we are discussing. I know of no solution other than the one I have been discussing: the road as a farm co-operative without any regular payroll, simply to serve the farm and mountain-industry territory through which the road runs."

But the Gazette says this has already been thought of, and yet private citizens are unwilling to make any months of suspension to risk anything further on reviving the road."

I have written many pieces about the M. & A. Its condition has been known for years—years before this final suspension. And now it seems to me the Gazette's own admission proves the situation hopeless—which was a judgment that was very nearly expressed by Dr. Gooden in his book published 22 years ago."

Soviets See Need for Worship, But Their Solution Is Faulty

By JAMES THRASHER

Sometimes it may seem to us that the Soviet government is concentrating its thought and effort on the advancement of its imperialistic ambitions. But reports within the vast mysterious USSR indicate that the Kremlin is ceaselessly promoting its latest interpretation of basic communism, and settling the dialectic squabbles among the faithful."

Right now the dictators of Russian thought are pushing the old Marxian dogma of materialism. During the war they ceased their campaign against religion, partly out of necessity, partly to please their allies and partly to please and comfort their embattled countrymen."

But now religion, both Christian and Moslem, has again become "the opiate of the people." The clergy once more is attacked as the servant of bourgeois reaction. This is a heavy burden, and there can be no trace of religion and their Marx-made creed."

Another example of the renewed promotion of materialism is the end of the long argument between the agricultural scientists Lysenko and the more traditional Soviet scientists. The ruling powers have approved Lysenko's contention that there is no such thing as heredity in botany, and that the accepted, demonstrated doctrines of Mendel and Morgan are false. Marx and Lenin said that belief in heredity was ancestor worship that promoted class snobbery. So heredity also had to be banished from the vegetable kingdom."

Godlessness by official edict is not faith. Neither is the perversion of scientific truth for political reasons. Yet it is ridiculous, even amusing, to find such things in a country so ruled by inherited political tradition and so haunted by enforced reverence."

To call Marx's writings the Bible of Communism is to credit the Bible with a greater influence on the everyday government of men than it probably has ever exerted. The word of Marx, and of Lenin his apostle, is law. It may be open to some differences of interpretation. It is a heavy burden, and of thought which, in the hands of the self-anointed, rules the lives and actions of some 200,000,000 people. Continued on page two

City Annexes Section East of Hope Limits

In regular session last night the city council passed an ordinance making about a square-mile area east of Hope a part of the city. The action brings several hundred residents inside the city.

At its last meeting the council accepted another section north and east of the city limits and incorporated it into the city of Hope. Several hundred residents estimated from 500 to 600, live in both areas.

The section accepted last night runs from Hope City limits to the overpass east of Highway 67, to the Missouri Pacific Railroad on the north boundary and almost to Piney Creek on the south. In other action to bolster the city's population the council passed a resolution officially calling for a census to be taken as soon as possible. The council feels it is losing much money in turn-of-the-century funds which is based on the last census. The resolution calls for the city to post required deposits by the Bureau of Census.

A request by Floyd McDowell that the city extend a water line beyond the limits along 16th Street to a portion of Southland Heights was turned down. Mr. McDowell made known his intention to incorporate the section inside the city. The council told him to construct his own line and when the section is incorporated the city would buy the line.

Clyde Mosier's resignation from the police department to attend school was accepted.

An application to construct a rifle range is to be held in abeyance until land title is cleared. Vincent Foster's request that the city construct water lines to the Beverly Hills addition was granted.

E. L. Archer requested a permit to construct a gasoline service station on the old Brookwood property on East Third St. The station will be in connection with a proposed new Studebaker Agency site to be located there. The hearing was set for October 10.

The Water and Light plant was instructed to proceed with construction of an electrical line to serve customers on the Spring Hill and Lewisville roads and to investigate possibility of constructing another line from Highway 29 to the Alton Community.

The council voted not to sell approximately 1000 feet of wire now stored at Fair park.

No action was taken on a request by Mrs. Leon Bundy that the city help take care of the dust problem on Fulton and Mack Streets which will be created during the livestock show.

No action was taken on a proposal to blacktop the streets around the courthouse square. It was revealed that another plan already was in the making to take care of the matter.

An ordinance levying the regular city property tax now in force was passed.

The group set rental fees on the city-owned air compressor and jack-hammer at $25 per day and $15 for half days.

1321 Students Attend School First Day

Opening day attendance in Hope Public Schools was 1321 at 10 a.m. today as compared with 1330 in 1947 and an enrollment of 1343 in 1946. This figure represents a drop of 39 over the first day last year.

However, Superintendent James H. Jones said total enrollment in the city would be higher than any in history. He expected the figure to pick up this week and pull far ahead next week.

The upper four grades in senior high school total 373. Junior high and grammar schools were as follows:

Brookwood	231
Oglesby	233
Garland	236

Quenille Will Try for New French Cabinet

Paris, Sept. 8 — (AP) — Minister of Public Works, Henri Quenille said today President Vincent Auriol has asked him to form a new government.

Robert Schuman's cabinet was overthrown last night after it had been in office 64 hours. General elections seemed probable. Quenille visited the president at Elysee palace after a brief meeting with Auriol, and announced he had rejected an offer. Auriol for the first time also consulted the cabinet members of Gen. Charles De Gaulle in an effort to solve the crisis.

Quenille, like Herriot, is a member of the Radical Socialist Party which is conservative. He said he would apply to the president's offer tomorrow. He left the palace through a crowd of about 100 police and mobile guards who had been thrown hastily around the building when a crowd of 500 workers assembled at the outskirts of Paris and began marching toward the center of Paris.

The Rightists and the Communists defeated Schuman by six votes, with the aid of a split in the conservative Radical Socialist Party. The issue was over an 84.33 per cent of living bonus for French workers, many of whom work for the government in socialized industries.

Schuman's government was the fourth since the start of last year's former Premier, Leonid Herriot, a Radical Socialist (conservative) announced he had declined to form a new cabinet because of his failing health.

Herriot is president of the national assembly. He had conferred earlier with Socialist President Vincent Auriol.

Communists' unions in various parts of France are in a state of confusion.

The Little Woman Convinces Willie That a 'Woman's Work Is Never Done'

By HAL BOYLE
New York — (AP) — Trellis Mae Peeble, like any other housewife, often complained that "women's work is never done."

—And like any other husband — Wilbur Peeble could never understand why.

After all, didn't he get his work done at the office? Sure. And why? Efficiency, organization.

Sometimes he got a little weary of hearing his wife complain she had more to do than clean out the house, sweep the street, clean the roller skates, and he got particularly tired of hearing her complain about the time she spent doing the laundry and washing the dishes.

"Why," he would say, "then we'll start cutting out of a trough. We can lose it down after every other meal."

But this remark rarely cleared the air. It only brought into his wife's eyes a look of quiet murder.

It was Wilbur's contention that a woman could cut in half the time she spent doing housework if she only organized her tasks.

Reading his Sunday newspaper the other day Wilbur came across a story by a man who had proved "this to be true. He was a young commander whose wife had broken her ankle. For five weeks the commander had run his home and office both.

Wilbur read a few paragraphs describing this man's victory over a woman's age-old problem of housecleaning, and how easy he had found it by discovering time-saving shortcuts. With a yelp of joy Wilbur tossed the paper over to his wife.

"Look here, Read this. What'd I always tell you? Here's a fellow cut down the time it takes to keep house from 6 hours and 27 minutes a day to only three hours. Boy, didn't he make women look pretty!"

Gravely Trellis Mae took the paper. Silently she read the article through as her husband watched her with the grin of a cat that has caught a fat mouse after long stalking.

"I see," said Trellis Mae, when she had finished.

"Yes, yes, skipper. Everything ship-shape?"

145 Lb. Melon Grown by E. H. Hubbard

E. H. Hubbard of near Hope lived up to his promise of last week by today bringing in a Triumph watermelon weighing 145 pounds, which in all probability will be the largest of the season.

The melon exceeds by three pounds the 142-pound Triumph brought in last week from the Middlebrooks Farm.

Hubbard has shipped many 100-pound melons this season and still has several that will top the century mark in his patch. His largest effort was one weighing 160 pounds and in 1945 sent an order topping 154 pounds to the U.S. President.

The 1948 record melon was purchased by Earl Powell, operator of Powell Nash Motor Co. here.

Says Riots in Berlin Intended to Upset Talks

Washington, Sept. 8 — (AP) — Secretary Marshall said today Communist attacks on the Berlin city government were largely intended to upset talks of the Big Four military governors on the crisis in the Soviet-blockaded capital.

Marshall said that the efforts to disrupt these talks must be firmly resisted. He declined at a news conference to say that any resistance involves military measures.

Just before seeing newsmen, the secretary of state received from the military high command at Berlin a detailed account of the situation in Germany and in Berlin.

This meeting followed a session yesterday of the National Security Council at which Marshall outlined the diplomatic picture in Berlin.

It was understood the meeting with the military chiefs today was called to give the secretary a precise briefing on the strength and capabilities of American armed forces in the area.

Questioned at his news conference, Marshall said the Berlin disorders followed a familiar Communist pattern. He said they were not intended to aid efforts of the military governors to work out a settlement there.

After he noted the talks are proceeding, Marshall was asked whether the disorders climaxed by the kidnapping early today of 19 Western zone Berlin policemen, cast a shadow on the negotiations.

The secretary said he would leave this deduction to the questioner.

Earlier, top American officials were studying a "progress" report just received from Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor in Germany.

President Truman cleared the way for possible fast new moves by calling his chief foreign policy and defense advisors to a special White House conference yesterday only a few hours after his return from a two-day campaign trip.

The White House gave no inkling of what actions were considered or taken at the unusual session of the National Security Council. The only announcement was that "this was a special meeting in connection with the Berlin situation."

The security council, which normally meets only every other week, is composed of the secretaries of state, army, navy, air force and the chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Set up by Congress in 1947, its duties are to "advise the president on domestic foreign and military policies relating to the national security x x x."

Georgia in Battle of Governors

By The Associated Press
Georgia Democrats turned out in heavy numbers today to hand down their verdict in the 20-month old battle of the governors.

There were flaming crosses in some parts of the state as Herman Tamm and Gov. M. E. Thompson squared off in a primary election to resume the fight for three months of 1947 gave Georgia two chief executives.

That situation followed the death of Governor Eugene Talmadge. Tamm made Herman's father, before he could take office, Thompson claimed the post because he had been elected lieutenant governor. Young Tamm made it after the state legislature gave him a majority vote.

The state supreme court finally decided in favor of Thompson, but Tamm made out today to make good the "I'll be back" pledge he made then.

Backed by the Ku Klux Klan, Tamm campaigned on a white supremacy platform and vigorously attacked Thompson's record in office. Thompson in turn, declared that Tamm had fought him in 1947 with the support of "hoodlums, thugs, goons and drunks."

With election assured for the primary winner, a record 1,195,163 voters — including 338,870 Negroes — were signed up. Hoke O'Kelley, Hoke Willis and the Rev. Joseph A. Hagan also were entered in the race.

Eugene Cox was out to defeat Attorney J. Neely Peacock, whom he licked in 1946. Former Rep. John S. Gibson and Country Johnson both sought to wrest from W. M. Wheeler the House seat he now holds. Rep. James C. Davis also faced two opponents: Former Rep. Helen Douglas Markin and Wyman C. Lowe.

Utah's Democratic Gov. Herbert B. Maw took a commanding lead for renomination over former Assistant District Attorney John S. Boyden, while Maw's 1944 opponent, J. Bracken Lee, in a tie of House Speaker Randall H. Mabey for the GOP ballot spot.

Democratic Rep. Walter K. Granger and Republican Rep. William A. Lawson were unopposed, but four candidates fought for the chance to oust them in November.

In the race to meet Granger, David J. Wilson led State Senator Mitchell Melich. The Democratic contest saw Mrs. Reva Beck Bosone, Salt Lake City police court judge, take a lead over Ray H. Leavitt, chairman of the state road commission.

Arizona's acting governor, Dan E. Garvey, led six opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, with Rep. Richard F. Harless running second.

Runners battled it out in the GOP race, with Bruce Brackett holding an edge over William Boudon.

Leading in contests for House seats were Democrats Harold Davidson and Rep. John R. Murdock and Republicans John Udall and A. R. Buchanan.

Nevada's lone congressman, Republican Charles Russell, was not opposed for renomination. Democrats nominated Reno City Councilman Walter Baring.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Sept. 8 — (AP) — Cotton futures turned steady today, following early weakness, as heavy buying and short covering met only limited offerings.

The Department of Agriculture's second forecast on the 1948 cotton crop was only 50,000 bales higher than the August 1 official estimate and had little effect on the market.

The Agriculture Department estimated the cotton crop at 15,210,000 bales compared with its August 1 forecast 15,169,000 and the 1947 production of 11,857,000.

Traders continued to feel that a surplus of cotton is in prospect this season unless exports prove well above current expectations.

Futures closed 5 to 25 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Russian rulers clearly believe that while religion may be the opiate of the people, worship is all right. The preserved body of Lenin is exhibited like a holy relic. The face of Premier Stalin is displayed at public gatherings in enormous reproductions that are a staggering example of bad taste.

The Bolsheviks are wise enough to recognize a man's urge and need to worship. But the objects they provide for worship — the embalmed remains of one mortal man and the aging presence of another — are not likely to fill that need.

They must also find it hard to establish belief in materialism as a religious principle when that materialism in 30 years has brought the Russians so few comforts.

The Soviet leaders are still trying to recreate the Russians' spiritual life by a formula that contains no real faith and little real logic. That is a contradiction which does not give promise of solving itself very easily.

September corn jumped around erratically, providing most of the market's interest. It had a gain of more than 3 cents at one time, but this was partly lost in late trade.

Parity of September reflected an advance in cash price. No. 1 yellow corn selling as high as $2.06.

Action of the September delivery had no influence on the new crop months. They dropped around 2 cents at one time.

Wheat closed 2-1/4 higher. September 2-22 3-8, corn 1 5-8 lower, or to 1 cent higher. September $1.69-1.63 3-4, oats were 1-3 lower. December $1.54, and soybeans were 1-2-3/4 higher. November 2-94 1-2.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Sept. 8 — (AP) — A sudden sinking spell sent the stock market sharply lower today.

Selling in the final thirty minutes of trading pushed prices down 1 to 3 points generally and in one or two cases more. The late drop was accompanied by no special news developments to account for it.

The downward trend was persistent except for a brief pause during mid-day when quotations leveled off.

GOP Must Get Twice as Many Votes

Washington, Sept. 8. — (UP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey must run twice as fast or win just about twice as many states from President Truman as he took from FDR four years ago to become president.

Republican strategists will tell you he can do that — and more.

Four years ago Dewey carried 12 states with 99 electoral votes. They were Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, and Colorado. A minimum of 266 electoral is necessary to elect.

Dewey was blanketed in the Mid-Atlantic states, the Southern and Border states, the Southwest and the Pacific Coast region. For the minimum of 167 electoral votes which Dewey must gain over Truman he took in 1944, GOP managers are looking this year to these states:

New York, Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Maryland, New Hampshire, Michigan, New Jersey, Minnesota, Connecticut, West Virginia, Nevada, Idaho and Massachusetts.

The GOP expects to do better than that for Dewey on his second White House try. But from among those states the bulk of his winning margin must come — assuming that he wins.

Polk and Henry A. Wallace's third party threat are boosting Dewey's chances, notably in Pennsylvania and California. Mr. Roosevelt polled 1,933,000 to Dewey's 1,522,000 four years ago in California. The Pennsylvania score was: Roosevelt 1,940,000; Dewey 1,835,000. Dewey probably could carry Pennsylvania this time without Wallace's help.

In California the Democratic bulge four years ago was more than 400,000 votes, but the present record yellow wood at Lawrenceville, N.J.

Laney 'Wagers' Hot Springs on Deer Hunt

Lander, Wyo., Sept. 3. — (AP) — The governors of Arkansas, Wyoming and Colorado set out today to try and bag an antelope with one shot.

The chief executives — Ben Laney of Arkansas, Lee Knies of Colorado and Lester C. Hunt of Wyoming — led their 12 hunting companions in the antelope hunt.

Each of the hunters had only one bullet in his rifle, and the game bagging the most "prong-horns" wins. Game wardens accompanied each five-man team to a spot where antelope have been located — and also to see that no hunter uses an extra bullet.

Laney wagered Arkansas' Hot Springs against Wyoming's own Mammoth Hot Springs that his team would bag the most of the elusive animals.

It will comfort GOP managers that Wallace will cut into President Truman's California vote this year and that Gov. Earl Warren of California is the Republican vice presidential candidate.

Republican gains are most likely outside the South, Southwest and Border states. But Dewey and Warren will give those areas a chance at their hand wagon.

Hot Campaign Seen in Top U. S. Race

Detroit, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The opening Michigan skirmish between the Republican and Democratic forecast campaign a hot-wired presidential campaign.

President Truman and Harold E. Stassen, a substitute GOP opponent, handed out some tough political talk in their kickoff speeches in this industrial heart of America.

Battling for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, Stassen fired a series of critical words at Mr. Truman last night. Dewey approved the jibes in a telephone call from Albany to Stassen here.

The former Minnesota governor said the president had made "a record of failures—failures at home and abroad."

He called Mr. Truman "a complacent candidate" who used "extreme demagogic appeal and who was trying to benefit politically by deceiving labor."

He said the president had followed Henry A. Wallace's economic theories, adding:

"Wallace's theory is that there is no faith in America and the American people suffered an inflation."

"With a record of little judgment and less faith," Stassen thundered, "He (the president) once again sets himself up as a prophet of doom and attempts to arouse in America an unnecessary, nameless fear of future depression, unemployment and chaos if he is not returned to office."

Stassen was answering some pretty blunt language used about the Republican by Mr. Truman in Labor Day appearances in Michigan and Ohio.

Stassen said Mr. Truman had set off inflation by removing controls. The president has been talking about "Republican high prices."

Mr. Truman told labor that it had better watch out for more restrictions if the Republicans are elected. Stassen said labor has elected Stassen under the Taft-Hartley Act than under Mr. Truman's policies.

Stassen charged that Mr. Truman's agreements with the Russians at Potsdam had proved "a massive failure for the United States." He complained that Mr. Truman failed to take Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) along to that meeting.

Vandenberg—praised by Mr. Truman at Grand Rapids as "the only man in the world who knows the truth to the people I have no fear of the result."

In his telephone call to Stassen after the latter's speech, Dewey

DOROTHY DIX Cultivating Charm

Dear Miss Dix: How can a woman cultivate an attractive personality?

Answer: To acquire a pleasing personality that will make her person a gratification wherever she goes, a woman must begin by making herself as easy on the eyes as possible. She need not be a beauty, but she must always be good-looking, which is to say, well-dressed and well-groomed.

Clothes are the homely woman's salvation, for, like the mantle of civility, they cover a multitude of sins in the way of physical blemishes and defects. If a woman has a pretty frock and a becoming hat, nobody notices the color of her hair or her complexion.

Next, the woman who wishes to develop a pleasing personality must acquire a friendly manner. She must wear the smile that won't come off. She must show interest in other people and she must learn to listen sympathetically while they tell her about their babies, their baby-sitters, their servants, and their aches and pains and surgical operations.

She mustn't be afraid to show people that she likes them and enjoys them. We all are instinctively drawn to those who show that they admire us.

Pleasant Remarks
The woman who wishes to be popular must be amiable and good-natured and given to saying only pleasant things to people. Nobody likes a woman who is sour-faced and malicious, and prone to make sarcastic speeches. The woman who is sweet and friendly and cordial is always popular, and any woman can be that.

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to marry a doctor, and I love him dearly, but I cannot stand the thought of women going to his office. I always have heard that women are attracted particularly to doctors and this thought is on my mind constantly.

Do you think I would be happy married to this man?

Answer: I certainly don't. I don't think you would be happy married to any man if you are going to be filled with jealousy and suspicion of every woman he meets and with whom he has business. More than that, you will ruin the life and wreck the career of the doctor if you marry him.

Instead of trying to keep women out of his office, you should shoot them in, for on them depends your prosperity. Have gumption enough to realize that a doctor is in no more danger of having affairs than any other man. It is in the man himself, if he wants to philander, he can find plenty of women, no matter what profession he follows.

But, unless you can change your attitude toward your fiancé's work, you had better break off the engagement, otherwise both of you will be perfectly miserable.

Virtually the Whole Globe Is Involved in Tremendous Social, Economic Upheaval

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
This old world of ours is the melting pot for a weird mixture of humanity.

I've just been studying headlines in the day's newspapers and most of the accounts point in the same direction. Everywhere forces of the "left" and of the "right" are at each others' throats while utopian "socialists" battle to keep the pendulum from swinging too far in either direction.

It needs only a quick appraisal to make it clear that virtually the whole globe is involved in a tremendous social upheaval. It takes a great deal more study to enable one to hazard a guess as to where we are headed.

What set your correspondent off on this speculative line of thought was the ascension of the Netherlands throne by Queen Juliana in place of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, who abdicated because of the weight of years after half a century's reign. It was a moving ceremony, in the presence of European royalty, and it undoubtedly was surrounded by the deep respect and love of the Dutch people as a whole for their royal house.

Well now, how does Dutch royalty for any constitutional monarchy fit into the picture of our changing world? We can't forget, of course, that unrest is seething in Holland's rich East Indies, some of which want complete severance from the mother country. That being so, our question calls for a double-barreled answer.

If the Dutch themselves want to keep a constitutional monarchy with a parliamentary system, there is no clash with democracy in that. Parliamentary rules, however, the time is rapidly passing when a nation can impose its rule on people of another race.

Empires are on their way out—and fast. Thus Queen Juliana comes to her throne at a moment when her empire is breaking up. Perhaps the East Indies may become part of a Dutch commonwealth of nations, but their days as colonies certainly are finished.

That again can be said of Britain. She herself has recognized the changing times and has granted both India and Burma their independence. She retains, to be sure, but they will become independent in due course. Meantime, however, Britain herself likes her royal house, which thus far hasn't presented any ideological problem for her Social Government.

Of course royalty and the extreme political left don't mix. We saw what happened to young King Mihai of Romania when the Communists gained control of his country. That said, here it may come to the aid of a royal party can be quite as oppressive as an absolute monarch.

However, both the Netherlands and Britain at the moment are politically close to the middle-of-the-road, and they find no inconsistency in maintaining royal houses. The same is true of most of the other constitutional monarchies of Europe today. The anterochies have been ditched.

The trend among the constitutional monarchies naturally can't be taken as conclusive of what the future will produce. The one thing we do know—and we shall be smart not to forget it—is that the world is in the midst of a social upheaval which is going places. However, we might not be far off in concluding that the global political trend is towards a middle-of-the-road set-up in which all winds will get a fair break.

Dewey to Open Drive in Des Moines

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will open his campaign for the presidency Sept. 20 with a speech in Des Moines, Iowa.

The Republican presidential nominee's campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, Jr., said in announcing this today that the address would be delivered at Drake Stadium.

The subject matter of Dewey's first speech was not disclosed.

The New York governor will speak from 8 to 8:30 p. m., Central Standard Time. The address will be broadcast over the CBS and Mutual networks.

Dewey's campaign opener will take him into Iowa just two days after Mr. Truman's appearance at a farm outing near Dexter, Iowa. The president will make a major farm address there Sept. 18.

Dewey plans to leave Albany for Des Moines the evening of Sept. 19. He will travel by train.

James C. Hagerty, Dewey's press secretary, said information on the rest of the governor's itinerary might be announced later today or tomorrow. Indications are that Dewey will continue to the West Coast.

After West Coast appearances he is expected to make his way back across the country in easy stages, in which he probably will deliver a number of major addresses.

Meanwhile the GOP candidate's campaign strategy on four top issues became apparent after Harold E. Stassen's speech in Detroit last night assailing President Truman's record.

The issues: Labor, high prices, communism and foreign policy.

In his Detroit address, Stassen sketched a Republican blueprint known to have had the advance approval of Dewey.

Friends of Dewey said he would fill in the picture during the campaign on each of the issues pointed up by the former governor of Minnesota.

Herbert C. Hoover swept the border states and dipped into the South in 1923 when he licked the late Alfred E. Smith. Republicans count Tennessee as a possibility this year because that state's Democratic primary exploded last month in defeat of Ross B. H. Crump. If the explosion damaged the Tennessee Democratic party badly enough, Dewey would have a chance there. Virginia is a traditionally Democratic state in which the Republicans will put on a major campaign.

FDR carried Virginia against Dewey by a count of 232,000 to 145,000 four years ago. But this time there will be four candidates on the Virginia presidential ballot: Truman; Dewey; J. Strom Thurmond, Dixiecrat; and Wallace. Kidnapping Virginia from the Democratic machine run by Sen.

New York, Sept. 7 — The restraint shown by the people of the southern tier under the deliberate goading of Henry Wallace is a reproach to the masses of the rabble of the cities up North. The southern people, contrary to the slanders of a small element of envious inferiors in the city of New York, are, day by day, the politest that we have. Their superior manners are civility and almost fearless as they mask an alacrity to fight for cause, and their patience is seen to be majestic under dire provocation.

Porkers Rated Darkhorse of Conference

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Dallas, Sept. 8 (AP)—When football forecasters considered the Southwest Conference they look at the schedule. The team that plays at home the most usually wins the championship. That's what the records show.

If such be the case this season, the Rice Owls will take away the trophy, because the blue legions of Jess Neely play all three of the other top-rated teams in Houston. That means Texas, Texas Christian and defending champion Southern Methodist.

Southern Methodist has a hard row to hoe, not only playing Rice at Houston but Texas at Austin and Arkansas, another tough cookie—and rated with the leaders in some quarters—at Fayetteville. Texas is a little better, but the Southern Methodist, get it? At Austin but having to meet Texas Christian and Rice away from the Longhorn corral.

The at-home advantage was illustrated last year. Southern Methodist beat both Texas Christian and Rice at Dallas. The Methodistists almost got tied for the championship because they had to tackle Texas Christian at Fort Worth and T. C. U. battled S. M. U. to a 19-19 deadlock.

Not only has Rice the advantage in the schedule but the Owls look capable of holding their own with the best of them. Rice needs a fullback and three linemen, but Neely is pretty deep in line replacements.

Southern Methodist is regarded as having the best backfield in the conference and possibly in the country. It does have some problems in fashioning a line to equal the sturdy wall of 1947. Any team which can beat the Owls, like All-American Oak Walker, backed up by almost all of the last season's regulars, is bound to score a flock of touchdowns. Added to these is Kyle Rice, the top prospect in the conference among the new men.

Neely's backfield with experience and power. The Longhorn line might well be its greatest in history. It will have speed, experience and will be massive. Keyman will be George Petrovich, giant tackle already named for All-American. Dick Harter, who won All-America tackle last year and will be playing center this season.

The backfield has speed and finesse. Only the question of whether Bobby Layne's passing game will be replaced in a few weeks by the Longhorn ranks. But everyone thinks Paul Campbell, a squadman with much experience, will do the job.

There are quite a few who would be surprised if Texas Christian, based in a 19-19 tie at Horned Frogs, with a backfield boasting all-conference Pete Stout and passing, running Lindy Berry. The line looks powerful despite last season's regulars.

Arkansas is the dark horse, spearheaded by Clyde Scott, one of the finest backs this conference ever saw. The fact that Arkansas has to play Texas at Austin and Texas Christian at Fort Worth pushes strongly against the Razorbacks, but they meet Rice at Little Rock and Southern Methodist at Fayetteville.

Taylor has the most lettermen with 20. He is expected to be much stronger than last season but their schedule is rugged and they are not expected to be title contenders.

Cochran Stittler is the most optimistic of all at College Station where his Texas Aggies, 18-10, are strong, are showing a great upturn in spirit. A. and M. is due to have a rock-ribbed line and should show more scoring punch with the return of Jim Cushman, a fine back and passer. No one expects A. and M. to finish higher than sixth, however.

First games are scheduled next week with the Aggies figuring in a clash with Villanova at Philadelphia, Sept. 13. Rice will play Abilene Christian College at Little Rock, Texas opens its rebuilt stadium (capacity now 66,000) against Louisiana State and Texas Christian tackles Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., Sept. 19. Southern Methodist and Baylor will meet Sept. 25 to start the campaign.

Fort Worth Has Cinched Texas League Pennant

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 8 — (AP)—Fort Worth has clinched the Texas League's regular season pennant. The Cats sewed up the title last night by edging Oklahoma City, 4-3, in thirteen innings.

Tulsa edged itself place by downing Dallas, 5-3, in thirteen innings.

'Sanity Code' Weeds Out 15 Big 9 Athletes

Chicago, Sept. 8 — (AP)—Approximately 15 ineligible Big Nine athletes — a majority of them football players — have been weeded out in "operation sanity."

Their cases and other matters of eligibility will be studied by a conference faculty committee Sunday in Chicago. 13 days before the conference grid season opens.

The committee has delved into violations concerning scholarships and academic records, and a number of athletes have been found ineligible. The list of ineligible athletes is revealed. All football players in the Big Nine were notified in advance of full practices which opened a week ago, an informant said, and did not report. He said that "big game" players are involved.

Red cells bring oxygen to the tissues of the human body. But of course, Parson Smith would not be allowed to speak his pieces in such neighborhoods. Unlike the civilized southern citizen, the most violent and insulting critics of southern culture cannot take it and simply won't.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh C. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Sept. 8 — (AP)—A big crowd at an intent look decorated Ted Schroeder's road-chewer face as he sat in the marquee at Forest Hills and watched Frankie Parker making hash out of Australia's Adrian Quist in the final round of the Davis Cup match. "Ted was frankly puzzled over American's easy victory. 'We know we are good, but we're not that good,' he murmured. 'We were playing over our heads.'"

Schroeder refused to agree with the theory that Davis Cup competition ought to be abandoned for a few years until a new crop of players develops. "We were down for a good many years, but we didn't give up and we got the cup back," he insisted. "This is a great international contest and the only way we can develop young players is to have them play."

To The Point

Schroeder's theory is that there was just one point between the lopsided challenge round of a series — maybe even a classic victory. "If Jack Bromberg had been in there it would have been the doubles and he might have beaten me, Parker or both," he said. "Bromberg was only one point away from winning at Wimbledon and if he had won there, the Australian association would have invited him to play here. So you can say Australia was just one point away from making it earned today."

It Had To Happen

Reinhardt Herman Hickman's tales of finding those characters in the Alleghenies who became great tackles once he got them "taped and shod and carried down from the mountains."

Will the U. of Arizona publicity department find Fulbright, Tom Carpenter and End Warner Acker, man wear shoes only on the playing field. "They're from Hawaii instead of the 'mountains' and always go barefoot at home."

Pyle, the Longhorn halfback, almost broke an ankle while forming for photographers. Officially the injury is "slight," but unofficial reports say he may be slowed for some time.

China Starts Her Economic, Monetary House Cleaning in Biggest Sweep of History

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst — China has started her economic and monetary house-cleaning with a vigor which is calculated to support the advance notices that this is the biggest sweeping of dark corners the country ever has known.

They've actually started sending members of the privately privileged families to prison for violation of the new regulations. But it's only the "dark corners" of great wealth who are catching it. For two government officials already have been sentenced to death for infraction of the regulations, and another is coming his way in jail pending further action. Three rice merchants in Manchuria have been shot.

Of course, these developments may be merely an exemplification of the old adage that a new government is a long time in the making. But this is really a serious house-cleaning — the result of long consideration and planning by the government.

And this is the "dark corner" which the government is trying to clean out. The general seems to have his eye on the "dark corner" which he has self-announced the falling of Wei Ping, son of a Shanghai banker, on a charge of using advance knowledge of government reform to dump the government on the exchange for profit. He is connected with the case with a secretary in the finance ministry at Nanking and he has been arrested.

This economic drive doesn't mean that the campaign against the "dark corner" of the government has been halted. The military has been frozen at the August 19 level, but in connection with the change to the new "gold" three months.

Most of Southern Loop Teams Idle Yesterday

By The Associated Press

The Mobile Bears won their third straight Southern Association victory last night, the first time they have enjoyed such a streak in 33 games. The victory was a 6-0 shutout of the fading New Orleans Pelicans.

The remainder of the league was traveling yesterday and for once there was a cooling off period in the league. Nashville-Memphis battle for first place.

American Flag Race Hits the Boiling Point

By JOHN GRIFFIN

New York, Sept. 8 (UP)—The seething American League pennant scramble reached the boiling point today as the runner-up New York Yankees invaded Boston for a night game that opens a three-game series against the front-running Red Sox.

The pressure is all on the Yankees of course, because the Red Sox now hold a game-and-a-half lead. In order to take over the lead during this series, New York must win the large order of winning all three games. Boston needs to take only one to become still being in first place when the defending champion Yankees leave town.

It was expected that tonight's action would be a duel of right-handers with Frank Shea (3-10) going for the Yanks and Joe Dobson (3-7) for Boston.

Third-place Cleveland, four-and-a-half games off the pace, opens a three-game series at Detroit in another night game.

Today's action in the National League won't be quite as hectic with Boston's pacesetter Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies leading the way. Only five of the second-place Pirates attempt to tighten their hold on that slot in a night game at Cincinnati.

Looking ahead in the American League, the schedule remains all in favor of the Cleveland Indians, who have 23 games to play, 19 of them at home. Only five of the games are against first division teams.

The Red Sox have 24 games to go, 11 at home. The Yankees have 20 games left, three of those will be in the friendly confines of Yankee Stadium. Moreover, the Red Sox have the big series that starts today, the Yanks and Red Sox must face each other eight times.

In the national 11 of the Braves' remaining 24 games are at home and the fact that they have 27 days in which to play helps because it means they can use their ace pitchers, Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn, perhaps a dozen times.

The only action in the majors yesterday was in the National League, the outstanding development was the Pirates' seizure of second place by a half-percentage point over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The canny lefty who will be the caddy for the Pirates, Don Lang, years old, Sept. 13, who hurled the Pirates to a 6 to 2 night win over the St. Louis Cardinals at Pittsburgh. Pitching a seven-hitter, Ostermeier lost his shutout in the ninth inning when Don Lang homered with Stan Musial aboard.

St. Gordon was the hitting hero as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, 6 to 1 and 8 to 6, in Philadelphia. The New York infielder, who drove in three runs in the opening game, with his big wallop a double off the left field wall that highlighted a four-run rally in the second inning. Then he won the second game in dramatic fashion when he clouted a two-run homer in the first half of the 11th inning.

Walker Cooper also shared hitting honors in this tilt, with a three-run homer earlier in the game. The double loss dropped the Phillies from sixth to last place.

Slumping Cards Pick Up Options on 12 Players

St. Louis, Sept. 7 — (UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, in the midst of a slump which has dropped them to fourth place in the National League standings, today picked up the options on 12 players from four minor league farm teams.

Only one of the players, infielder Larry Miggins, was due to report to the Cards immediately. Miggins, who has been playing with Omaha of the Western League, was to report to the Cardinals today.

Club officials were undecided how many of the other 11 would be called up at the completion of their minor league seasons. Among the players on recall was a member of the Cardinals' famed "gasbag" gang, outfielder Doc "Ducky" Medwick, who has been playing for Houston of the Texas League.

September 'Look' Returning to State Colleges

By The Associated Press
The familiar September "look" is returning to college campuses in Arkansas and in one case, the scene definitely is brand new.

Central College has reopened at Camp Robinson near North Little Rock after being moved from Conway where it was established in 1892. It did not operate last school year.

In addition to a new location, Central College has, for the first time, male students. Until this year, it was a girl's junior college. Registration at Central opened Monday.

Quachita College at Arkadelphia also opened Monday and 300 freshmen enrolled. At Hendrix College in Conway, guidance tests for freshmen opens today and will continue through tomorrow. Registration there also opens tomorrow. First classes are to meet Friday.

Communist Party in Poland Split So Wide Open That Red Grip Is Threatened

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The sturdy defiance of Moscow by Yugoslavia's tough dictator, Marshal Tito, is echoing sensation in another important Russian satellite state, and that none other than Poland — one of the pillars of the Bolshevik clan.

The Polish Communist party, with a membership of 1,000,000, is split so wide open that the Red grip on the country is threatened. As high as 50 percent of the membership is in open revolt. The dissidents are fiercely opposed in general to toeing the party line as laid down by the communist and specifically to the socialization of production in Polish peasant villages.

The rebels stand for nationalism as opposed to the internationalism demanded by the totalitarian dictatorship of Moscow. That also is the basis of the row between Tito and the Soviet. These two big nations of Poland and Yugoslavia, whose fierce love of independence has been written in their blood time and again although they haven't asked for a severance of the tie with Russia.

Lest there be any doubt about the relationship between the Yugoslav and Polish defiance of the master, it can be recorded that a Communist party resolution presented at an emergency meeting in Warsaw yesterday blamed the "Yugoslav incident" for causing dissension among the Polish Reds. And this, I take it, is a reminder that "a little heaven beneath the whole lump."

It also is an invitation for us to watch for the working of the heaven in other Russian satellite states.

Polish Communist party leaders from all parts of the country rushed to Warsaw yesterday for a council of war on how to deal with the split in the party. This conference assembled shortly after Wladyslaw Gomulka, vice premier of Poland, had been "freed" from his position as secretary general of the party. He had backed the Yugoslav revolt against the Moscow dominated communist. His place was taken by Boleslaw Bierut, president of the Polish National Council.

In conjunction with the emergency conference a public communique was issued by the executive committee, notifying the public that there must be "full liquidation" of all members who refuse to follow the Marxist-Leninist line as handed down by Moscow. Furthermore, the executive committee slammed down the dissent and made known that the Communists intend to join through socialization of production in peasant villages come hell or high water. This of course was a direct challenge to the dissidents.

Well now, anyone who has followed the course of communism knows what "full liquidation" can mean. In the past it has meant on many occasions the literal extermination of rebellious elements. In other cases it has meant prison or slave camps or Siberia. Whatever way you look at it, the connotation of that "liquidation" is savage.

This grim situation gives rise to pertinent questions: Will the liberty loving poles stand for such oppression? What will be the effect of the Polish and Yugoslav dissensions on other intensely nationalistic peoples like the discontented Czechoslovaks? How will it strike those nations of western Europe which are the object of Communist aggression? There can be no doubt that it will mean a hardening of the defense against the Bolshevik drive.

Greeks Capture High Peak From Guerrillas
Athens, Sept. 7. — The general staff said today Greek troops have captured the highest peak in the Kaimatchalan mountains, almost on the Yugoslav frontier. Five other peaks of the range, all more than a mile high, were taken also.

The communique said 60 Communist guerrillas were killed in the Vitsi triangle in the extreme north.

Russian Bid for Uranium Land Probed

Washington, Sept. 7. — (UP) — The story of a Russian-born French citizen who competed with the U. S. government for uranium-bearing western land was uncovered today by a congressional investigator.

Rep. John McDowell, R., Pa., a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said the group would reveal details of its coming hearings on atomic espionage. He emphasized, however, that there was no evidence connecting the "promoter" with the alleged Soviet atomic spy ring under investigation.

McDowell also disclosed that Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime head of the army's atom bomb project, will testify at one of the public hearings concerning the spy organization.

He said it was uncertain whether Groves would testify at several sessions of the committee this week. These closed sessions will be held to pick up loose ends of the Hiss-Chambers controversy and to get set for the open hearings on the atomic spying activities.

McDowell said the bidding for uranium lands occurred during the war, primarily in Colorado. He said agents for the Russian-born promoter bought up rights to lands adjoining or close by the mineral-bearing lands acquired by the government.

The government land purchasers did not know this was going on at the time, said McDowell. "They learned about it afterward. But all this will come out in testimony at one of the public hearings."

The promoter, he added, is now in Paris. He has a brother in Chicago, McDowell said, and he may be called to testify.

Burlap Sacks Have Many Uses

Burlap sacks have many uses in the home and for crafts, explains Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine Blackwood, Homemakers in Hopestead county will find they can bleach burlap sacks with the following formula: 6 gallons of water; 2 pounds of chloride of lime; and 3 pounds of caustic soda. Procedure: Dissolve the lime in the water, stirring until well mixed. Then let the residue settle, and strain through cheesecloth of coarse cloth. Add the caustic soda. Mixing: When mixing the caustic, be sure to stir the solution thoroughly until mixed. This will probably cause some heat and it is better to use an earthen vessel, although a galvanized or iron vessel will do.

Bleaching process: Remove all stains from the burlap and be certain that all dirt is removed. This can be done by placing it in a washing machine, using nothing but clear water, as soap might color it. If a washing machine is not used, let the burlap soak a few minutes, then force it through the water with the hands or dip it up and down.

Time consumed in bleaching: It has been found that in some cases, where the goods are kept moving in the mixture, 10 minutes will give a good bleach. Goods have been bleached in the solution for 8 or 9 hours without injury to the fabric, but it is advisable to test before attempting this length of time to avoid damage to all the fabric, the caustic. In a washing machine the goods should be kept moving for about 10 to 12 minutes. Rinse and dry for the color shows up, then dry for the color shows up.

Time well: After removing the burlap from the solution, use only clear water to rinse. Do this thoroughly. If any of the mixture is left, it may break or harden the material. Do not give the goods a second washing with water. The caustic will dry out. Do not leave it in the sun longer than is necessary to remove the moisture. Drying in the shade is a good idea, but too much sun might spoil the goods, or make it streaked. When the material is dry, it may be used for any of the many purposes and the most delicate of shirtings and muslins will be gained.

Margaret to Campaign for Father

Washington, Sept. 8. — (UP) — Margaret Truman is going to quit painting the kitchen furniture and go in for some serious campaigning with her father.

The 24-year-old, blonde daughter of the president accompanied him on his June trip to the West Coast. It was then that the rather middle-aged and unromantic advisers to the president discovered that Margaret was a big favorite with crowds.

So, Miss Truman made the Labor Day swing through Michigan with the president earlier this week. She got such a terrific hand from crowds along the way that the president described her as "my greatest asset."

Between trips this summer, Margaret has been home in Independence, Mo., with her mother, painting kitchen and porch furniture, grubbing in a little flower garden by the house and practicing for what she hopes will be an opera debut after the election.

"Claxing on the sunny south porch of the White House after she returned from Michigan with her father yesterday, Miss Truman said she was a trifle awed, but completely pleased, over the way people greeted her during the campaign trips.

"Honestly," she said, "it is embarrassing sometimes. On trips now, she usually rides in an open car just behind the president's automobile. The crowd sees the president first because he usually is sitting up on the rear of his car.

Then the crowd starts to hunt for "his daughter." It is a frequent shout, "Sing us a song."

Margaret isn't about to sing songs during a political swing. "I don't want my singing mixed up with politics," she said.

Her pet project for the future, aside from her father's re-election, is opera. Plans for her first opera appearances have not formed up, but she hopes to start out in "Rigoletto."

Meantime, Margaret plans to take every campaign trip with her father from now to election day. Mrs. Truman also will make the western swing which starts Sept. 17.
